Don't guess alloy-mercury ratios use TRUE DENTALLOY

Sigrens

Trade Mark Reg. in U.S. Pat. Off. and Elsewhere

Sigrens are an accurately measured quantity (6 grains) of True Dentalloy in individual, sealed envelopes, a sufficient quantity of True Dentalloy for the average small filling. One or more Sigrens can be used for larger fillings.

Sigrens eliminate guesswork proportioning, and the faults of unbalanced alloy-mercury ratios, because each Sigrens supplies the correct amount of True Dentalloy for one dispensing of mercury from the S. S. White Mercury Dispenser.

Sigrens tend therefore to assure maximum physical properties, and uniformly good quality in the amalgam.

Sigrens are convenient and economical — they eliminate waste. True Dentalloy also sold in 1-ounce and 5-ounce bottles. Filings, Shavings and Cut "A" for alloy mercury proportioners.

1. Pull and Detach a Sigrens from its package.

2. Tap the envelope; settle the alloy to one side.

3. Tear the envelope lengthwise.

4. Shake the alloy into a mortar.

5. Make one dispensing of Mercury for each Sigrens used.

6. Triturate until amalgamation occurs.

"Twice-a-Year" Patient...Yet A "Twice-a-Day" Reminder

The successful dentist is usually one who enjoys great patient-loyalty... who benefits every day in the year by the extra "personal services" he renders.

Just as the M. D.'s prescriptions for home-care are a constant reminder of the service he gives, so your recommendation of Pycopé Tooth Powder and Brush can be of twice-daily service to your patients. Ethical products, never publicly advertised, they represent your special knowledge... symbolize a sincere concern for your patients' well-being.

Supreme Court Ruling Holds Dental Laboratory Advertising to the Public to Be Illegal

In a decision of far-reaching importance, the Supreme Court of Illinois, on June 13, held, in effect, that it is illegal for a dental laboratory to advertise or sell prosthetic appliances to the public. The decision was handed down in the case of Lasdon v. Hallihan and brings to an apparent end the two-year fight of the enforcement authorities to force the advertising dental laboratories to cease their violations of the Dental Practice Act.

ENFORCEMENT DRIVE

The case of Lasdon v. Hallihan is the outgrowth of a drive against advertising laboratories undertaken in the summer and fall of 1939 by the Department of Registration and Education and the State's Attorney of Cook County. Among those arrested were: Edward N. Lasdon, operating as the A-1 Dental Laboratory; Donald B. Alexander and Henry Prindiville, operating as the A & P Dental Laboratory; James and Frank C. Hejna, as the Lawndale Dental Laboratory, John Mandell, as the Nu-Way Dental Laboratory and Herman Glasser, as the Economy Dental Laboratory.

While their cases were pending in the county court, the defendants joined in filing a bill for an injunction in the Circuit Court of Cook County to restrain the enforcement authorities from enforcing Section 5, as amended, of the State Dental Practice Act. The allegation was that this section of the Act was unconstitutional. Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan, to whom the case was assigned, directed that testimony in the case be heard by a Master in Chancery and the matter was forthwith referred to Master Daniel A. Covelli. After a series of protracted hearings, Master Covelli prepared his report recommending that the Court hold Section 5, as amended, constitutional and dismiss the bill for injunction. This the Court did on April 24, 1940. Under the law ninety days are allowed to appeal from the Court's decision. This time was permitted to pass but shortly thereafter a request for the privilege of appeal was made and granted by the Supreme Court.

REHEARING

Although the Supreme Court has spoken, the petitioners still have certain rights which they may exercise. They have fifteen days' time from the date of the decision to file a notice of intention to request a rehearing and on June 23, five days before their allotted time would have elapsed, such a notice was served on the State's Attorney and Attorney-General. They have an additional ten days, that is, until July 8, to present their written arguments to a justice of the Supreme Court who then may grant or deny the request for a rehearing.

The next issue of THE FORTNIGHTLY

REVIEW will carry the decision of the Court with respect to the request of the petitioners for a rehearing.

TEXT OF DECISION

In the meantime the text in full of the Supreme Court's decision is presented herewith.

Edward N. Lasdon et al. v. John J. Hallihan, Director of Registration and Education et al. Appellees.—(Donald B. Alexander, et al. Appellants.)

"Mr. Justice Murphy delivered the opinion of the court :

"This case comes direct to this court by appeal from a decree of the circuit court of Cook county, pursuant to leave granted appellants to appeal within one year under the procedure provided for in rule No. 29, 370 Ill. 29. Constitutional questions are presented which confer jurisdiction for a direct appeal.

"Seven persons, four of whom are appellants, instituted this action against the Director of Registration and Education, the Attorney General, and State's attorney of Cook county, seeking by such proceeding to enjoin such officials from enforcing by criminal prosecution, certain provisions of the Dental Practice act which they claim violate the State and Federal constitutions. After evidence had been taken before the master and hearing was had on his report, the chancellor dismissed the complaint for want of equity. Appellants operated dental laboratories in Chicago for the making of prosthetic dentures, bridges and other substitutes for natural teeth.

ATTACK

"The constitutional attack is upon parts of section 5 of the Dental Practice act as amended in 1939. (Ill. Rev. Stat. 1939, chap. 91, par. 60.) The pertinent provisions of the section, as amended, are : 'A person practices dentistry within the meaning of this act : . . . (9) Who furnishes, supplies, constructs, reproduces or repairs, or offers to furnish, supply, construct, reproduce or repair prosthetic dentures (sometimes known as "plates"), bridges or other substitutes for natural teeth to the user or prospective user thereof.'

"The following practices, acts and operations, however, are exempt from the operation of this act : . . . (f) The making and repairing of prosthetic dentures, bridges, artificial restorations or other structures to be used or worn as substitutes for natural teeth, or appliances for the correction of disease, loss, deformity, malposition, dislocation, fracture of or injury to the jaws, teeth, lips, gums, cheeks, palate or associated tissues or parts upon order or prescription given by a licensed and registered dentist and constructed on, or by use of, casts or models made from impressions taken by a licensed and registered dentist ; provided that such prosthetic or orthodontic appliances, or the services rendered in the construction, repair or alteration thereof shall not be offered for sale, or use, or delivery to the public. And provided further that such prosthetic or orthodontic appliances shall not be placed or adjusted in the oral cavity except by licensed and registered dentists.'

"It will be observed that under these provisions dental plates may, under certain specified conditions, be made by one who is not a licensed and registered dentist. Such conditions are (a) the impression from which the plate is to be made must be taken by a licensed dentist ; (b) the persons engaged in the making of such appliances shall not offer to sell them or the services rendered in the construction of them to the public and (c) the placing and adjustment of the plates in the oral cavity shall be performed by a licensed dentist.

TWO LABORATORIES

"The master found that for several years there had been two classes of dental laboratories in Chicago, those who dealt exclusively with licensed dentists having no contact or dealings with the general public or the patient for whom the plate was being made, and those who advertised their business by offering to sell full or partial dentures to the public.

"The laboratories of appellants were within the latter classification. The pleadings raised an issue of fact as to appellants' method of transacting business. The finding of the master on that point is not questioned, the material parts of which are: 'The laboratories in question conduct their business in the following manner: an "ad" is placed in a newspaper of general circulation or some other publication offering for sale to the public full or partial dentures; a person in need of a full or partial denture who has seen the advertisement . . . enters the store or office of the laboratory and informs the plaintiffs or one of their employees that he wishes to purchase a denture; . . . the customer is asked . . . whether he, the customer, has a dentist; if he has not, the laboratory owner then recommends a dentist to the customer; the customer then leaves the laboratory and visits the dentist; the dentist makes an impression and arrangements are made between the customer and the dentist for the payment to the dentist for his services; . . . upon this impression [the one made by the dentist] the laboratory constructs the denture, which denture is then delivered to the dentist for fitting in the customer's mouth; the denture is then sent back by the dentist to the laboratory for adjustments and when it is finally completed, it is returned by the laboratory to the dentist for final fitting in the customer's mouth; the customer pays the laboratory for its work and pays the dentist for his work.' The appellants had each been engaged in the making of dentures for several years and previous to a few months before the trial their dealings had been exclusively with licensed dentists.

"Appellants say they do not contend that the provision of the act which requires the making of the impression and fitting and adjustments of the plate in the oral cavity to be done by a licensed dentist is not a proper exercise of legislative power, but that their objection is to the provision which prohibits them from making and offering dental plates for sale or use to the public.

REASONS

"The specific reasons why the Federal and State constitutions are claimed to have been violated by the amendment to section 5 are (a) that the amendment unreasonably restrains trade, impairs the right of contract and deprives appellants of liberty and property without due process of law in violation of sections 1 and 2 of article 2 of the Illinois constitution and the fifth and fourteenth amendments of the Federal constitution; (b) that it violates section 13 of article 4 of the Illinois constitution, in that the amendment purports to cover subjects not embraced in the title of the act and embraces more than one subject; (c) that it is special or class legislation, violating section 22 of article 4 of the State constitution and the fourteenth amendment of the Federal constitution; (d) that it is unreasonable, arbitrary, bears no relation to public health, morals or welfare of the people and is not a valid exercise of the police power, and finally, it is argued, as a matter of statutory construction, that the dental laboratory operations as carried on by appellants did not constitute the practice of dentistry within the meaning of the act.

POLICE POWER

"Appellants are in no position to complain of the impairment of their right to contract as to matters relating to their business if their business was of such nature as to be the subject of legislative regulation through the exercise of the police power of the State. (Semler v. Oregon State Board of Dental Examiners, 294 U.S. 608, 79 L. ed. 1086; Rast v. Van Deman and Lewis Co. 240 id. 342, 60 L. ed. 679; Schiller Piano Co. v. Illinois Northern Utilities Co.

288 Ill. 580.) In discussing the extent of power which the legislature possesses in matters related to the police power this court in People v. Weiner, 271 Ill. 74, said: 'The power of the legislature to pass laws for the preservation of good order or to promote public welfare and safety, or to prevent fraud, deceit, cheating and imposition, has always been recognized in this State. (People v. Freeman, 242 Ill. 373; People v. Schenck, 257 id. 384.) . . . A rightful exercise of the police power is not a violation of the fourteenth amendment even though property interests are affected. . . . The police power has been defined as that inherent and plenary power in the state which enables it to prohibit all things hurtful to the comfort, safety and welfare of society. . . . This power is very broad and far-reaching, yet it is not without its restrictions. While the courts will not pass upon the wisdom of an act concerning the exercise of the police power, they will pass upon the question whether such act has a substantial relation to the police power. . . . It must have some relation and be adapted to the ends sought to be accomplished.'

PROTECTION

"In the exercise of police power the practice of the professions has been subjected to licensing and regulation for the reason that the services customarily rendered by those engaged in such professions are so closely related to the public health, welfare and general good of the people, that regulation is deemed necessary to protect such interests. It has been held a proper exercise of police power to legislate and protect the professions performing such services against commercialization and exploitation. (Winberry v. Hallihan, 361 Ill. 121; Semler v. Oregon State Board of Dental Examiners, supra; People v. Peoples Stock Yards State Bank, 344 Ill. 462.) In the Semler case, supra, in discussing the objectives sought by the legislature of the State of Oregon in enacting the Dental Practice act of that

State, the court said: 'The legislature was not dealing with traders in commodities but with the vital interest of public health, and with a profession treating bodily ills and demanding different standards of conduct from those which are traditional in the competition of the market place. The community is concerned with the maintenance of professional standards which will insure not only competency in individual practitioners but protection against those who would prey upon a public peculiarly susceptible to imposition through alluring promises of physical relief. And the community is concerned in providing safeguards not only against deception, but against practices which would tend to demoralize the profession by forcing its members into unseemly rivalry which would enlarge the opportunities of the least scrupulous.'

"In Winberry v. Hallihan, supra, in considering the power of the legislature to regulate dental advertising by licensed dentists as provided in sections 18 and 18b of the act, the reasoning in the Semler case was followed and it was held the sections of the act regulating advertisements by licensed dentists were valid. Since it is established by precedent that the legislature may, in the exercise of the police power, regulate advertisement by licensed dentists for the purpose of protecting the profession against commercialized exploitation, it would follow that if section 5 can be considered as having been enacted for the same purpose, it should be sustained on such precedent.

EXPLOITATION

"The facts as found by the master may not fully justify a statement that appellants designed to commercialize and exploit the profession of dentistry but there is sufficient in the record to warrant the conclusion that if the objectionable provisions of the act were removed on constitutional grounds the possibility of commercialized exploitation of the profession would be present.

"Appellants claim they have a constitutional right to advertise their business and sell their products to the public, subject only that the making of the impressions and the fitting and adjustment of the plates shall be by a licensed dentist. It is obvious that if they were permitted to thus advertise their business, the practice of the profession of dentistry would, to a great degree, be subservient to the business of those engaged in the making of plates. It is well known that masses of the public do not comprehend or understand the skill that is necessary to the making of proper dentures and the proper charges to be made for such services. Such persons are often attracted by the advertisements of the quack and charlatan and seek his services.

"Appellants concede that a considerable number of their customers come to their laboratories because of the advertisements and publicity they give to their business. They also admit that they refer many of their customers to a dentist, as a rule to one particular dentist. Dr. Hejna testified that about thirty-five per cent of his patients were referred to him by ones operating a laboratory. If the advertisement carried on by the dental laboratories was the medium that brought the customer to the laboratory, and he was sent from there to Dr. Hejna's office, it would, as to its effect upon the dental profession, be much the same as though he had come to Dr. Hejna's office in answer to an advertisement of Dr. Hejna's, which is prohibited by section 18 and 18b of the act. If the restrictions of which appellants complain were removed, it would permit licensed dentists receiving patients referred to them by the dental laboratories to do indirectly what other provisions of the act prohibit them from doing directly.

RIGHTS

"The right to follow the professions is one of the fundamental rights of citizenship. A person's business, profession or occupation is property within the meaning of the constitutional provision as to due process of law and is also included in the right to liberty and the pursuit of happiness. (People v. Love, 298 Ill. 304.) The right to pursue a lawful calling, business or profession cannot be arbitrarily taken away but where, as in this case, the legislature has the right to regulate the profession for the protection of society there is no loss of property or violation of the right to liberty and the pursuit of happiness. People v. Walsh, 346 Ill. 52.

"It is next contended that the part of section 5, as amended, which defines the practice of dentistry to include the making of dental plates violates section 13 of article 4 of the State constitution by introducing into the act another subject and one which was not included in the title to the original act. The title of the act is 'An act to regulate the practice of dental surgery and dentistry in the State of Illinois.'

"The subject of 'an act' as that term is used in the constitution means the matter or thing forming the groundwork of the act, and may include many provisions that are germane to it and are such that, if traced back, will lead the mind to the subject as the generic head. (Perkins v. County Comrs. 271 Ill. 449; People v. Solomon, 265 id. 28.) Any matter or thing which may reasonably be said to be subservient to the general subject or purpose will be considered germane and may be properly included in the law. Mamina v. Alexander Auto Service Co. 333 Ill. 158; People v. Kramer, 328 id. 512; People v. Sargent, 254 id. 514.

TITLE OF ACT

"Unless an act contains matters which are not germane to the title or the title expresses subjects without any proper relation to each other, the constitutional provision is not violated. The General Assembly must determine the comprehensiveness of the subject of an act and the particularity of the act defining the subject. An act having a single general subject expressed in the title may contain many provisions however diverse, if they are not inconsistent with or foreign to the subject. (Department of Public Works v. Spanogle, 327 Ill. 122; People v. Stacker, 322 id. 232.) The tendency is to construe this constitutional provision liberally and not strictly, for the latter course would embarrass legislation and largely defeat the beneficial purposes for which the provision was adopted. Cooley's Const. Lim. (7th ed.) p. 209.

"The subject of the Dental Practice act includes within its terms the regulation of the practice of dentistry and, as previously stated, the purpose of the provisions of section 5 is to protect and regulate the practice of that profession. The provisions objected to bring within the purview of the act matters which are germane to the title. The act is not subject to the constitutional objection made.

"Another constitutional objection urged against section 5 is that it is special legislation and violates the clause of section 22 of article 4 of the State constitution, which provides: 'The General Assembly shall not pass local or special laws granting to any corporation, association or individual any special or exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever,' and that it violates the fourteenth amendment of the Federal constitution.

"It is claimed that since the dental laboratories were found to be of two classes, namely, those which deal exclusively with dentists and those which advertise and sell to the public, and that section 5 being directed against the latter class, an unjust discrimination is created between the two classes of laboratories.

GENERAL LAW

"This section does not divide those who operate dental laboratories into two classes. It merely provides that the making of dental plates under certain conditions is not included within the provisions of the act. There is no statutory provision prohibiting any one engaged in such business from complying with such conditions. Compliance carries with it the right to be exempted from the provisions of the act. A law is not local or special in a constitutional sense if it operates in the same manner on all persons in like circumstances. (Springfield Gas Co. v. City of Springfield, 292 Ill. 236.) General laws are those which relate to or bind all within the jurisdiction of the law-making power. If a law is general and uniform in its operation upon all persons in like circumstances, it is general in a constitutional sense, but it must operate equally and uniformly upon all brought within the relation and circumstances for which it provides. (Lippman v. People, 175 Ill. 101.) The act does not confer exclusive privileges and does not violate these constitutional provisions. The right to the equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the fourteenth amendment is not denied when it is apparent that the same law or course of business is applicable to any person in the State under similar circumstances and conditions. Linsley v. Anderson, 171 U.S. 101, 43 L. ed. 91.

RESTRICTIONS

"The objection that the restrictions imposed by section 5 have no relation to public health and the general welfare has been fully covered in the disposition of the previous questions in this case and by what was said in Winberry v. Hallihan, supra.

"Appellants final contention that section 5, as amended, even though constitutional, does not prohibit the dental laboratory operations performed by appellants has been disposed of by what has already been said. Appellants cite Winner v. Kadow, 373 Ill. 192, in support of such contention. The facts as recited in the opinion of that case show that the plaintiff who made the plate complied with the provisions of section 5. The impression was made and the plate was fitted by a licensed dentist and

Virginia Dentist Held Not Liable for Failure to Take X-Ray Following Dental Extraction

Supreme Court of Appeals Reverses Decision of Lower Court in Favor of Dentist

The Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia recently reversed the opinion of a lower court and ruled that a Virginia dentist could not be held liable for failing to take x-rays following the extraction of several teeth.¹ Details of the case are as follows:

A patient suffering from rheumatism or arthritis was advised by her dentist to have eleven of her upper teeth extracted. She agreed to follow his advice and the extractions were performed using general anesthesia. That evening the dentist called at the patient's home to remove a piece of bone, or tooth, which was protruding from the upper jaw. The dentist told the patient that the extraction had been done cleanly and that no roots had been left in her mouth. Six weeks later after an apparently uneventful healing, the patient was referred to a prosthodontist. A denture was made at once which was worn for seven months, after which time the patient returned to the prosthodontist complaining that the denture did not fit. X-rays were taken which revealed the roots of six of the teeth still remained in the patient's maxilla, and after these roots were extracted, a new denture was indicated.

DENTIST SUED

A little later the patient sued the dentist who had made the extractions, and obtained a judgment in her favor. The dentist then appealed to the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia. The argument in this court was lengthy and may be summarized as follows:

The patient contended that the dentist was negligent in performing the extractions in such a manner that the roots of six teeth were not removed and was also negligent in failing to disclose to the patient that the roots remained when he knew or should have known that he did not remove them. The court said that a dentist does not guarantee or warrant a cure, and a bad result or a failure to cure is not in itself sufficient to raise an inference or presumption of negligence. The court pointed out that a dentist is not required to exercise the highest degree of care and skill known to the profession, but on the contrary, is required to use only such reasonable and ordinary skill and diligence as are exercised by the average of the members of the profession in good standing in similar localities and in the same general line of practice. In the judgment of the court, there was no evidence that the defendant had been negligent in the manner in which he performed the operation or in his treatment to the patient.

DECISION

The court said further that there was no evidence that an examination of the patient's mouth after the operation would have disclosed the presence of roots in her jaw, nor was there evidence that an inspection of the extracted teeth would have disclosed that some parts of the roots had been broken off. The court agreed that the true condition of her mouth could have been discovered immediately by x-ray examination, but could not agree with the patient's contention that the dentist was negligent in failing to make such an x-ray examination. There was no evidence that it was the usual custom and practice of dentists in the community in which the dentist practiced to make an x-ray examination after an extraction, and

BOOK REVIEW

The Patient's Dilemma: The Quest for Medical Security in America. By Hugh Cabot, M.D. Pp. 284. Index. Cloth. Price, $2.50. New York: Reynal and Hitchcock. 1940.

This book is another variation on Dr. Cabot's theme that the "practice of medicine in this country is a monopoly, set up on a state basis through a system of licensure." Only a few months ago, at the trial of the American Medical Association on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, Dr. Cabot was an expert witness on the side of the government and prosecution. His testimony at that time, as well as that given in the volume under consideration, leaves little room for doubt that Dr. Cabot is in full and wholehearted opposition to the present policies of organized medicine with regard to the forms of medical practice.

The dilemma of the title is that of "the individual of moderate income who desires medical care for himself and his family. He is invited by the physician to 'have some good medical care,' but he may be unable either to find it, or, when found, to pay for it." The book concerns itself with the ideas of Dr. Cabot and others for the solution of this dilemma. There are introductory discussions on the impact of scientific discoveries on modern medical practice, on the elements of good medical care and on its price and cost. These elements are then tied together in a discussion of the "cost of medical care in relation to the method of delivery."

The author believes that the present system of private practice "can only with difficulty provide good medical care as defined by Lee who holds that "good medical care is the kind of medicine practiced and taught by the recognized leaders of the medical profession."

In connection with adequate medical care Cabot states "that neglected teeth are a crying need for both prevention and treatment." He touches a vital problem in the wider distribution of dental care when he says that "I know of (no dental plans) that offer complete dental care but most of them include some dental care, chiefly of a more or less emergency character."

Whatever opinions concerning his remedies for medical practice may be, Dr. Cabot apparently realizes (a) that dental care is not easily contained in any formula that is successfully applicable to medical care and (b) that the basis of a dental program must be prevention. This is enough to commend this author as a pleasant change from those who would solve the problem of dental disease by trying to overwhelm it with huge expenditures for treatment. Other than in these sparse references, Dr. Cabot has little to say about dentistry and its problems in the distribution of care. For this reason, purely dental interest in the book will be limited though it will serve adequately to convey the author's already well-publicized notions on the subject of organized medicine and medical care. The style is occasionally jocular and often pointed with sharp references at things or persons that do not have the author's favor. It is not an objective book but it has some information that may repay a rapid reading.—Harold Hillenbrand.

NEWS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

NO SEPTEMBER MEETING FOR SOCIETY

There will be no regular meeting of the Chicago Dental Society in September. The first meeting of the year will be held in October but the date will be the 7th, the first Tuesday, rather than the usual third Tuesday. These decisions were made by the Board of Directors at its June 10th meeting in order not to conflict in any way with the dates of the American Dental Association meeting in Houston.

DR. HUGO FISHER WINS N.U. AWARD

Dr. Hugo G. Fisher received the service award of the Northwestern University Alumni Association in ceremonies conducted on the University's Evanston campus on June 13.

The award was given for distinguished service to the general Alumni Association and to the dental alumni association. Cited particularly were Dr. Fisher's contributions as past president of the Dental Alumni Association and as a member of its Board of Directors; also as a director of the general alumni association for a number of years. Dr. Fisher is the second dental alumnus to receive this award, Dr. Edgar W. Swanson having received it last year.

SALES TAX IMPOSED ON ALL DENTAL GOODS

Effective July 1 all dental equipment and supplies purchased will be subject to a Retailers' Occupational Tax of 2%. This is the result of the passage by the state legislature on May 14 of Senate Bill 113 and its approval by Governor Dwight H. Green on May 29. Heretofore, only equipment and those supply items of which the dentist was the ultimate consumer were subject to sales tax.

When first introduced in the Senate on February 19, the bill simply provided for a reduction of the tax rate from 3% to 2% without changing the scope of the existing law. When the bill reached the House, however, it was amended so as to apply to goods or materials used by persons in service occupations, trades, professions, etc., including those goods or materials that are purely incidental to the service rendered.

The Board of Directors, at its meeting on June 10, recorded its opposition to this extension of the sales tax and authorized the appointment of a special committee to investigate possible avenues of relief. The committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Frank J. Hurlstone, will report its findings when the Board next meets.

1942 MIDWINTER MEETING DATES ANNOUNCED

The 1942 Midwinter Meeting will be held February 16-19, inclusive, it is announced by President Glenn E. Cartwright. These dates were approved by the Board of Directors after the officers had selected them in conference with officials of the Stevens Hotel.

MOUTH HYGIENE COUNCIL BENEFIT A SUCCESS

Despite extremely inclement weather the benefit performance of "The Mikado," given Friday evening, June 13, under the auspices of the Mouth Hygiene Council, was a complete success, it is reported by Mrs. Warner B. Sivyver, president of the Council. Sufficient funds were raised to warrant the development of plans for an aggressive dental health educational program to begin after Labor Day.

The performance was presented by the choir of the Chicago Teachers' College in the college auditorium, 6800 Stewart Avenue.

NEWS OF THE BRANCHES

WEST SUBURBAN

Why not drop a line now and then to some of the boys in the Army? Major R. Mulholland is with the 124th Field Artillery at Camp Forrest. Ed Vonesh is at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, taking special military medical work. George Ulvestad, Jr. left a few days ago for Fort Sheridan. He is to be stationed at Panama . . . V. E. Cultra celebrated his fiftieth birthday with a trip to Camp Forrest to visit his son . . . Did Ham Akin smell a rat that Bill Tolar wouldn't have to pay off on that bet? Bill was looking for you, Ham . . . We spotted Al Kuncel taking motion pictures of the excavation for his new home and wonder if it is true that Al is building in order not to donate that outfit for Werner Gresen's new home . . . Frank Young is back from Indianapolis where he attended the Indiana State Dental Convention . . . William P. Foster visited his father at Columbus Junction, Iowa, last week . . . Ed Moore warns us about added competition as he just concluded a course in economics and office management . . . R. J. Horrigan moved his offices to the Physicians Building at 45th and Madison Streets this month . . . On June 10 the Mastrud brothers, Conrad and Albert, demonstrated their new electric tooth brush and technic . . . Last week Mr. Fricke and Mr. Johnson gave an interesting lecture on acrylics . . . We were glad to see D. K. Robinson at the Round Table; also LeRoy Knapp, Walt Zipprich, Paul Topel, Weston Olsen and Joe Hudlik. Come out every week, fellows . . . Merle Long was absent last week but that was because he was breaking in a new DeSoto . . . Art Skupa is breaking in a new x-ray machine. The American Dental Association Council on Dental Education reports the smallest graduating class in twenty years; 1,550 will leave America's 39 dental colleges and most of them will be absorbed into military service. And speaking of the service, let's all kick in to the U. S. O. whether we are approached or not . . . Bernie Siegrist sends a warning about extractions for draftees. Be sure you have radiographs just in case the draft board wants to know why the teeth were extracted . . . Of the suburbanite pedagogues, Bob McNulty is the only one working; the rest are succumbing to vacation desires . . . Director Bob Humphrey reports favorably on dental laboratory legislation . . . On July 8, the president of the Chicago Dental Society, Glenn Cartwright, will speak before the Round Table . . . N. S. Sothras, joined the branch. Come out to the meetings regularly, Nick. Glad to have you with us . . . We are happy to hear that B. T. Meehan is fully recuperated and back in his office again . . . Now that J. Kohout has retired from the chairmanship of the Round Table, he looks like an excited football coach sitting on the sidelines. You did a fine job last year, Jim . . . Bill Zimmer had a fire in his office but luckily the fire department got it under control before much damage was done . . . From all reports Ira Smith is accomplishing a great deal on that publicity committee. See you at the meeting.—Joseph M. Lestina, Branch Correspondent.

NORTHWEST SIDE

This business of being Poobah is not all that it's cracked up to be by the hero in that Gilbert and Sullivan classic. Now that the shooting is all over, your scribe admits that he was chairman of the recent golf outing at Briergate. He was also the one who moved the golf course one town south into Northbrook, and thus furnished misdirection to Waldo Link. That rare day in June was very much in evidence on June 18. After a week of rain, one of those ideal days showed up and everybody present gloried in the fact that such great wisdom was shown in choosing that day for golf. The golf committee was composed of Ben Davidson, Bob Burns, Walter Boeck, Corny Lewandowski and Fred Nannestad. Seventy-six men were at the dinner table when the time came for distribution of the prizes. First low gross went to Gus Tilley, second to Fred Nannestad, third to Bob Placek and fourth to Axel Peterson. As to the distribution of the rest of the prizes, and they were numerous, ask the man who was there. From all indications this method of prize distribution gained favor in the eyes of all present and might be considered by the chairman for next year's outing. The little green buttons were also an innovation, and these ideas as well as all mailing lists and summaries are at the disposal of next year's chairman. Thanks again all of you for the grand cooperation that the committee received last Wednesday . . . Business item: Neil Desenis is in the market for a new driver . . . Gus Tilley aside from being the No. 1 golfer this year is also quite a traveler. He reports attendance, of course with the missus, at the Shrine Convention in Indianapolis followed by a lake cruise. Between traveling and daughter's grades at Missouri University, Gus is always good for a news item. The editor wishes that he could say as much for some of the rest of you . . . W. R. Bowerson has headed north on a fishing trip . . . After much careful deliberation by our president, Waldo Link has again been named to head the program committee. With the fine array of talent that he produced last year, the branch may rest assured that, with the early start and past experience, we may expect even a better job this coming year. Watch this column for further committee appointments. Who can tell, maybe your name may appear here as head of that important elbow and pinochle committee?—Ben Davidson, Branch Correspondent.

WEST SIDE

The activities of the membership at this writing seems to be at a standstill. Nearly everyone is remaining close to his office; vacations are in the future and Society meetings are history . . . An early vacationist, Frank Conklin, has retreated before the hot winds of Chicago to the cool, shady shores of Lake Delta, Ontario, Canada, where he maintains his summer home. He will return about the first of September . . . I. G. Jirka, will spend the week-end of July 4, at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Michigan, where his son, Arthur Jirka, is working diligently . . . Victor Griseto reports the West Side Golf Outing will be held on July 30 at the Mohawk Country Club, located on Irving Park Road one-quarter of a mile west of York Road. For those who do not play golf, there will be card playing and indoor baseball. A fine steak dinner will be served to all . . . On June 7, the Arcolian Dental Arts Society held installation of officers. The following men took office: James De Biase, president; Vincent P. Vivirito, vice-president; A. Giraldi, secretary; G. H. Mondo, treasurer; D. Daniele, librarian. Rocco P. Tufo conducted the installation and Joseph Josh was the Master of Ceremonies . . . Frank Mascari is recovering after a long and serious illness . . . Stephen Brundage spends the summer week-ends at his summer home in Antioch, with his son, Edward Brundage, and the all-important granddaughter, Nancy-Jean, 21 months, a possible future dental hygienist . . . Harold Leavitt is planning an early change in residences. He will be in his new home in Oak Park on July 1 . . . Your correspondent has just completed ten hectic days of packing, moving and arranging household goods in moving out on Superior Street in north Austin, all of which accounts somewhat for the brevity of this article . . . Fellow members of the West Side Branch; the news is rather hard to find at this time and I would appreciate very much if you would forward your own or your friend's activities, vacation plans, or general items of interest.—George F. Vogt, Branch Correspondent.

NORTH SIDE

Our member, Otto Silberhorn, who is a delegate of the Cook County Council of the American Legion, transacted official business in Milwaukee last week . . . The following members of the Chiseler's Club enjoyed a two-day outing at Crystal Lake Country Club: Leo Kremer, George Schmidt, Ben Krohn, Jerry Couch, Joe Glick, Fred Haberle, Jim Ford, D. M. Hodgman, Harold Welch and Paul Hoeffel. Ben and Harold were opposing pitchers; Ben's curves were working better—he won. Paul Hoeffel was umpire and did such a good job that the boys want him again next year but they hope he will bring his glasses . . . Ray Cooke is spending part time in his new office in Glencoe. No doubt he'll be a suburbanite by and by. The Northwestern University Golf Tournament was a great success. R. L. Lasater, of North Suburban, won the Dean's cup, with a 72. There were 77 who played golf and 80 for dinner. Among our North Side members only two distinguished themselves: the Psi Omegas, George H. Williams and O. A. Hatcher; Williams with an 83 for low gross in the morning and Hatcher second low net for the day . . . Please note correction: Miss Carol Silver is the daughter, not granddaughter, of Paul Silver . . . Lieutenant R. J. Wallenborn of the Naval Reserve was called to active duty at Great Lakes Naval Training Station.—Roland A. Weber, Branch Correspondent.

KENWOOD-HYDE PARK BRANCH

The outing committee recently convened and decided that the postponed annual Kenwood-Hyde Park outing will be held on Wednesday, July 16. The almanac indicates that we will be fortunate enough to have calm and dry weather on that date. The date does not conflict with that of any other organization, and your committee has arranged the postponement. The outing will be held at the Cog Hill Golf Club; call our chairman, Willard Johnson, and indicate that you will be on hand for an afternoon of pleasure and fun. "Mac" McKnight has made several recordings of Scotch Ballads. These choice records will be featured during the dinner hour along with Ralph Sappe's renditions. There will be golf for the golfers and duffers, and baseball and horseshoe pitching contests for the non-golfers. Other varieties of pitching will transpire during the entire day, and if you are adept at the art of tongue-wagging and chinning, be on hand for a day of good fellowship and fun. Cog Hill is a delightful place to stage an outing, and Kenwood is very fortunate in making the reservation for July 16 . . . Despite the inclement weather and torrential rains many of the Kenwood boys appeared at the annual outing that turned out to be a regatta. To a casual observer many and varied wet weather games were in evidence. Grover Schubert, Syl Cotter, and Ben Herzberg were observed rolling the elastic plastic dominoes. "Meth" Methven and Ralph Sappe managed to get in a hole or two of golf between rain squalls. Willard Johnson acted as the official Cog Hill greeter . . . Kenwood extends its sympathy to Cliff and Mrs. Randall who were called to New York recently because of the death of his mother.—Howard E. Strange, Branch Correspondent.

ENGLEWOOD

With the coming of July comes a bunch of new Branch Correspondents, with so many vacations to write about our columns should not lack interest. Even if we are not in the lucky majority to have a few weeks off, it still helps to read of the enjoyments of others so if any of you are planning a vacation or have already had one, please give me a buzz or drop me a line. I will pass it on to the correspondent who next writes thereby making his writing a little easier. You may also communicate with the following directly: Joseph J. McMahon, 753 E. 79th Street, Radcliffe 1103; A. J.

Tanis, 1753 W. 95th Street, Cedarcrest 1740; Henry J. Mathews, 2956 W. 63rd Street, Hemlock 8666; C. D. Cory, 2376 E. 71st Street, Hyde Park 2766; I. G. Oaf, 5700 S. Halsted Street, Englewood 6800. Two other members will be appointed later . . . Decoration Day now seems a long time passed but I still like to think of the pleasant trip we had down through French Lick, Indiana, and on to Louisville, Kentucky, and Churchill Downs. Even though the races were a thing of the past, I did enjoy seeing the tracks where so many of our boys have won or lost so many dollars. In going through some of the Kentucky caves, I could not help but think what ideal nature-constructed bomb shelters they would make in case of air attacks . . . I will wager all had sore muscles after the Englewood Annual Golf Tournament on June 25 at Navajo Fields Country Club but, don't worry, a few times out will limber up those sore muscles . . . William Peters is sporting a new Dodge car. To give it a good try out he motored to Sherman, Texas, to visit his daughter . . . John Gilroy and family spent a delightful vacation at Hot Springs, Arkansas . . . Notice has been received from the chairman of the Dental Dealers, Mr. A. G. Wahlen, that the Chicago Dental Dealers will close all day July 4 and 5 . . . Leon Stern has been promoted from Major to Lieutenant Colonel in the Dental Reserve . . . Lieutenant Colonel Emil Aison has been doing active duty for over a month at Camp Grant . . . Ted Lindholm has been entertaining his father, E. Lindholm of Ocean Springs, Mississippi, for two weeks. Gus Solfronk spent eight days in Canada fishing and reports good catches . . . Paul Papsdorf just returned to his office after two weeks of rest . . . Englewood members had the pleasure of have Colonel Deiber, Sixth Corps Area Dental Surgeon of the regular army with them at the Golf Tournament . . . Lester Kalk has been busy officiating in his new duties as a member of the Board of Directors of the Chicago Dental Society . . . James Stokoe is vacationing in Canada. On his way home he will do some fishing in Wisconsin. James just made his first solo air flight and brought the plane down in one piece . . . Chicago Lawn has organized a Lions Club. Gus Solfronk is serving as a member of the Board of Directors. Sam Rabishaw was made Lion Tamer . . . Francis Napolilli is leaving the middle part of July for Wisconsin for a two week's vacation . . . Committees are being formed to map out a program for a successful year.—I. G. Oaf, Branch Correspondent.

NORTH SUBURBAN

The annual Golf Tournament of the Branch will be held at the Kildeer Country Club on Wednesday, July 30. Forestalling any how-do-you-get-there questions, Kildeer is 23 miles northwest of Evanston. Take Route 58 to Milwaukee Avenue, then Milwaukee Avenue, to Dundee Road; go west on Dundee to McHenry Road. Follow McHenry Road about 5 miles and watch for the Kildeer signs. Those driving from Highland Park and points north take Half Day Road. Dick Smith is chairman of the Sports Committee and promises lots of prizes both for the high and low shooters. Bob Lasater shot a 72 on this same course at the time of the Northwestern Alumni meeting, so that takes care of first low gross, if he repeats. A record high score of 139 is on the books to shoot at. The golfer who is credited with this figure must either have quit the game by now or become much improved. No one could continue to have the staying power necessary for that many strokes. In between these extremes will be the run-of-the-mine golfers and with prizes based on the Peoria system, anybody's liable to get one. Kildeer boasts of two courses and plenty of locker space. The fee for golf and dinner will be reasonable and members of other branches are welcome and are hereby invited to attend . . . Leonard McEvoy, of Winnetka, Frank Trangmar, of Highland Park, and J. D. Pett, of

SUPREME COURT RULING ON ADVERTISING LABORATORIES

there was no evidence that the plaintiff had held himself out as selling dental plates to the public. The distinction which is made in this case between the operations of the two different classes of dental laboratories was recognized in the Winner case. Appellants were not entitled to injunctive relief and the decree was correct.

"The decree of the circuit court of Cook county was right, and is affirmed."

it could not be said as a matter of law that it should have been done in the present case. The mere fact that the dentist reported that the operation was a success, when in fact he was mistaken, did not prove that the lack of success was in any way due to his negligence. Furthermore, said the court, it cannot be said that the defendant was under an obligation to disclose to the patient that roots still remained in her jaw, or that the dentist had concealed that condition from her because there was not the slightest evidence that the dentist himself had knowledge of that condition. Therefore, the Supreme Court of Appeals reversed the decision of the lower court and ruled that the dentist was not liable.

Prevention of Human Bite Infections: Speirs discusses the data in 114 cases of human bite infection seen within a few hours after the trauma. The method (gentle but thorough cleansing with soap and water, débridement only of damaged tissue and the application of a dry sterile dressing without suture) of Mason and Koch was followed in 82 cases and some variation of the procedure in the remaining 32 cases. There were no infected wounds among the 82 patients, except of 2 whose wounds over the knuckle were sutured. In 7 of the 14 patients who were treated with phenol and alcohol more evidence of inflammation developed than was usual; wounds became red, swollen and indurated but did not suppurate. Two patients with knuckle injuries which were cleansed and sutured required hospitalization later. The results in the entire group of cases have been gratifying, especially in comparison to former experience with cauterization, excision or extensive cleansing with strong chemical agents. The results confirm the author's belief that cleansing of the wound with soap and water within a few hours after the injury is the method of choice for prophylaxis of human bite infections. By this means the healing time of the wound is shortened and tissue destruction is minimized. In 35 patients the average time for complete healing was seven and eight-tenths days. In 60 other patients healing had progressed sufficiently far in an average time of four and nine-tenths days to warrant discharge. It is a good rule to consider any small penetrating wound on the hand as a human bite until proved otherwise. Bites on the fingers are generally on the distal phalanx. They vary from simple abrasions to compound fractures. Injuries to the lip range from penetrating wounds to almost complete avulsion, the latter being more common. Bites of the nose are usually extensive; they go through the ala severing the cartilage, the severed portion being attached only loosely over the bridge of the nose. After careful cleansing, loose approximation is permissible.—Surg., Gynec. & Obst. 72:619 (March) 1941 via J.A.M.A. 116:2724 (June 14) 1941.

You wouldn't
SPRING SCALES to weigh your scrap gold

Your wife would never worry about a half-ounce error in weighing a fish. But half an ounce of gold is serious business!

Specialization for the purpose at hand is equally serious in denture materials.

Although a material not specifically made for dentistry may not be harmful, neither is it sure to be safe. Specify Lucitone—the lifelike material tested and guaranteed by both Du Pont and Caulk.

... that's what they are saying up and down the land—in cities, on trains, on airliners—all over America.

There's a friendly ring to that farewell. Friendly, because it means something real and warm—a definite place.

And you hear people say that with conviction, too. Conviction, because they know this great, friendly Hotel through both experience and reputation. They know that they can see their friends and associates at The Stevens any time... as a convention delegate or as transient guest... in casual meetings in the lobby or perhaps in one of the dining rooms.

"I'll be seeing you at The Stevens." Of course. That's what traveling America is saying—saying with gusto and plenty of enthusiasm.

DOCTOR, WHAT ARE YOU DOING ABOUT THE

"21 Crucial Days?"

The first three weeks while a denture is seating itself are 21 "crucial days" for your patient . . . because, if he becomes discouraged with his denture at the beginning, he may never persevere to eventual mastery of it. And they're crucial days for you as a prosthodontist . . . because your patient usually measures your work by how quickly he can eat and talk with comfort.

Aware of these important facts, over 50,000 dentists use and recommend DR. WERNET'S Powder to all new-denture cases. DR. WERNET'S Powder forms a thin, protective comfort-cushion that minimizes the irritation of tender gums . . . helps stabilize the denture until the patient has learned to manage it himself . . . promotes ease and assurance . . . speeds denture mastery!

will build your practice like no other material can!

This isn't a problem in arithmetic. It's a personal equation and the answer is simple. Durallium enables you to give your patients a more perfect restoration at an economical price they can afford—and at a worthwhile profit to you.

Light, strong, beautiful and practical inexpensive restorations of Durallium prove that $2 + 2 = 6$... yes, more than that because each patient will take special pride in recommending many of his or her friends to the dentist who so capably did the work.
